A320 - 500 Hours Line Training Program

VICTORY Aviation provides Line Training program on Airbus A320 with its own airline. Line training is basically 'what a pilot has to undergo when he/she joins an airline'. He/she has to make him/herself equipped with the standard operating procedures of that particular airline through an orientation course on their simulators to understand and get well versed with the procedures.

The line training involves working as a co-pilot with a supernumerary training captain on the flight deck. Once a pilot is thoroughly familiar with the SOPs after line training one must undergo acceptance checks and debriefing sessions. Our placement services give wings to pilots on the threshold of a career take off. Satisfactory outcome means a pilot gets to test his/her wings. Different careers have different norms. Line training is a taste of what a pilot's life is like:

constant up-gradation and being on one's toes. We ease a pilot's flight through our arrangements with global careers

Note: VICTORY Aviation will pay a monthly allowance of USD $500 every month starting from Ground Class to Final Release.
